Day 1

A city filled with energy and culture – we'll begin our Eastern European story in grand Budapest. You could spend a couple of days getting acquainted with this bustling city, before meeting our small group of fellow explorers for a welcome dinner at our hotel.

So, how will your Budapest chapter take shape? Perhaps you'll discover one of the city's historic thermal baths and unwind in their famous, mineral-rich waters. (Don't miss the Gellért Bath's beautiful Art Nouveau architecture, or the sunny yellow Neo-Baroque facade of Széchenyi Thermal Bath). Then, a relaxing cruise along the mighty Danube River is the perfect way to soak in the city's iconic sights – Parliament Building, Buda Castle, Széchenyi Chain Bridge, we're looking at you!

Or, for a slice of adventure, you could pack a picnic and hike up leafy Gellért Hill for panoramic views of the city below. As another option, why not weave your way to the buzzing Jewish Quarter for a dose of pálinka (fruit brandy) at a quirky, character-filled 'ruin bar'? There are twisting mazes of neon-lit, graffiti-filled rooms just waiting to be explored here... Decisions, decisions!
